The new open air school which was built at a cost of $250,000, is expected to accommodate 120 pupils. A colored investigator is to be appointed by the head of the social service department of the Tuberculosis Society to investigate applicants for enrollment, the purpose of the investigation being to determine whether the child is really deserving aid. The society has set aside $3500 to be paid for the meals of children who are in

SNAPPY VAUDEVILLE BILL
HEADED BY MAX RAINEY
AT BOOKER WASHINGTON

"Ma" Rainey, "The Mother of the Blues" is pulling over a big surprise on Booker Washington Theatre this week. Although the act as a whole, is probably the best ever offered by a Blues singer, Ma Rainey brings it to a climax with dancing that would do justice to a sprightly youngster. The act opens with the blues image of a certain imitating one of her friends, "Jelly Roll" Morton. She follows, like before the foot lights with a "Stompy Stee Blues" with thunder and lightning effects; "Good Bye Daddy Blues" and "Hell Bound Blues." Interestingly in the program are a funny book done by Fred Walker and a jazz selection by one of the best bands that ever played on this stage. It is at the end, while dancing with Mr. Walker and Miss Rainey that the singer springs her dancing surprise and takes the house by storm.

Flora and Benah open the show with a dancing act which at once places the show on a high plane. They are singing "Let's of Nations" followed by lively dancing and humorous talk. Benah sings "I'm a Mountain of a Man" with a dramatic flourish. Flora's eccentric dance goes over big. They close with the "Good Bye Daddy Blues" and "Hell Bound Blues" which scores a big hit.

John Woods, with his comic monologues, "Little Henry," keep the audience laughing. As a vaudeville act, Mr. Woods is without a peer. His crossfire conversation with the dummies, and the latter's antics are perfect. Little Henry is sarcastic and gets into a lot of trouble, finally getting slapped. Jimmie has the queerest thought and the little fellow brings the act to a close singing "Shoot The Lizard in the Jaw."

The dance show is a big surprise from start to finish.

JIMMIE COX'S GEORGIA RED HOTS NEXT WEEK

Jimmie Cox's "Georgia Red Hots" will come to the Booker Washington next week beginning Monday. This is a lively bunch of performers presenting a musical-comedy-dance revue featuring the original Baby Cox and Baby Love Cox. The singer made a big hit during an engagement here several months ago. Monday will be "hey day" for the patrons. Every person who enters the theatre will receive an envelope containing coupons, stamps or money.

The Wonderful Musical Byron Brothers will be featured on an extraordinary vaudeville bill at the Booker Washington week of July 12.

THE PICTURE THEATRES

THE STAR

"The Price of a Party" will be presented at the Star Theatre this Saturday. It is the story of a young woman who sought the primeval pleasures of life. In search of new thrills, she thought she could play with fire and get away with it. She paid the price. The leading lady, Reginald Denny, will be seen in "I'll Show You The Town" on Sunday. It is the story of a young man who is played in the strange predicament of having to show three different women the tricks of the town at the same time, keeping each of the women in ignorance of the other's existence. There are a few thrills, including a lively airplane fight.

"The Price of a Party" will be the attraction on Thursday and Friday. It is an adaptation of Alphonse Daudet's famous story "Kiss in the Park" and tells of the difficulty of keeping a kingdom, and after living in exile, the skill necessary to try and keep the same kingdom from coming back over your possession. The picture, which tells the story of a Princess who becomes a beggar, and of her life as a ruler of a country in central Europe, is really full around mouthfuls of good and grandeur. The cast is headed by Alice Terry, Lewis Stone, John Bowring and John C. Craig.

THE OLYMPIA

"Women and Gold" will be shown at the Olympia Theatre this Saturday. It is an intense love story with dramatic elements. Frank Mayo, Sylvia Breamer and William Davidson are the principal players.

"Sinner's Paradise" the dog actor, in "White Fang," will be the special attraction on Monday. It is a Jack London's heart-stirring romance of the rugged North and shows a great brave dog charmed from the ferocity of his Wolf-blood by kindness and devotion to a girl and a man.

Reginald Denny and Mary Astor are the stars in "Oh Doctor" on Wednesday. It is a comedy thrill. Yakima Canutt will also be shown in a western drama.

Pola Negri and Wallace MacDonald are the stars in "The Charming" on Thursday. The story tells of Marjorie, a dancing girl who comes to New York and meets a kind of a kindly theatrical manager. With her mother, who is a great comedy character, she becomes a great success in a series of fantastic adventures.

Percy Marmont and Doris Kenyon in "Idle Tongues" will be the feature next Friday.

State Of West Virginia Negro Welfare Bureau

CHARLESTON, W. Va., July 1.—The annual report of the Bureau of Negro Welfare and Statistics made public today by Director T. Edward Hill contains much valuable information regarding the activities of Negroes in West Virginia.

In the introductory statement, the director states that the bureau has endeavored to improve the condition of the Negro race in West Virginia generally, industrially, socially, and educationally, and to make it better known.

It has found for Negroes more and better jobs, caused them to buy more homes and farms, urged them to be thrifty, to free their minds from slavery and prejudice, to improve in business of a higher order than "fish houses," and to make their homes and gardens more attractive.

It has discouraged lawlessness, idleness, and extravagance. It has improved industrial relations by working out adjustments of differences between members of the white and Negro races, which might have caused trouble or even bloodshed.

It has succeeded in its work in the rural communities, and in the industrial centers, and in the schools, and in the homes, and in the churches, and in the social life, and in the political life, and in the economic life, and in the cultural life, and in the spiritual life, and in the physical life, and in the mental life, and in the emotional life, and in the intellectual life, and in the artistic life, and in the scientific life, and in the religious life, and in the philosophical life, and in the historical life, and in the geographical life, and in the biological life, and in the astronomical life, and in the meteorological life, and in the zoological life, and in the botanical life, and in the geological life, and in the mineral life, and in
